

40TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION of
UNIVERSITY CITY HIGH SCHOOL
1971-72 + 2011-12

Violence Plagues New High School, Board Is Told

Author: Unknown

Periodical: The Evening Bulletin

Date: February 9, 1972

Location: Temple University Libraries, Urban Archives, Philadelphia, PA

Envelope: University City Science Center High School

West Philadelphia University City High School, which opened at 36th and Filbert sts. last December, is in bad shape, the Board of Education was told last night.

The $14-million school suffers from violence, a lack of hot meals and a scarcity of books and athletic fields, Paul Lane, president of the school's Home and School Association, told the board at a meeting in the school.

Lane said nonteaching assistants and "sheer luck" have prevented "serious injury over even a death in our building."

Frank Sullivan, president of the Philadelphia Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, said, "To have participated in West Philadelphia University City High School is to have participated in the school system at its worst."

Violence Plagues New High School, Board Is Told

West Philadelphia University City High School, which opened at 36th and Filbert sts. last December, is in bad shape, the Board of Education was told last night.

The $14-million school suffers from violence, a lack of hot meals and a scarcity of books and athletic fields, Paul Lane, president of the school's Home and School Association, told the board at a meeting in the school.

Lane said nonteaching assistants and "sheer luck" have prevented "serious injury over even a death in our building."

Frank Sullivan, president of the Philadelphia Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, said, "To have participated in West Philadelphia University City High School is to have participated in the school system at its worst."